REPORT OF PRINCIPAL AND SCHOOL IMPROVEMENT COUNCIL

Andrews High School, a comprehensive high school located in the rural town of Andrews, South Carolina, serves a widespread geographic area of Georgetown County School District. During the school year, our concentrated focus was on continuous academic achievement and students' successes.

Throughout the years, we have faced challenges in areas of increased dropout rates, irregular attendance, decline in graduation rate, and sustained academic growth in specified student populations. To address these barriers, we implemented and continued a variety of strategies to diagnose and address students' needs in the school and community settings. They include initiatives such as providing HSAP workshops, yearlong English and Math, differentiated instruction, group rotation extended day program, individualized remediation, departmental unit plans, improved use of available technologies such as Measures of Academic Progress (MAP), Smartboards, and credit recovery resources, diverse quarterly assessment practices, and involvement of community leaders and organizations to name a few.

Andrews High School staff and students were recognized for several outstanding achievements throughout the year. Some of our successes include the following: Health Occupations Services of America (HOSA) State Winners of Public Service Announcement, Boys State Track AA Champions, National Competitors in Future Business Leaders of America, 1st Place Art Award recipient, Richard Allen Award recipient, and numerous other awards and accomplishments.

Our goals and accomplishments would not be realized without the support of School Improvement Council, Parent Teacher Student Association, Booster Club, hard working staff, the Dropout Task Force, and concerned community leaders and friends.
